Elegance – just the purities of Idealism.

I. Division of Labour

There is a complex division of labour in liberalist society.

II. Complex Factors of Production

There are complex factors of production, like land, landowning, ground-rent, usury, moneylending, types of local companies and types of complex landowning and cash cropping and even forms of landowning, and division of landowning classes.

III. Simple Means of Production and Ownership of means of production Owning a complex piece of land and landowning types of cropping and forms of trackters and even forms of technical forms of landed structures.

IV. A Structured Whole

See the whole and all its parts and all parts and ensembles and types of ensembles and multiplicities of modes of production finally, with dominant and subordinate and even types within and forms of life as multiple ethical forms and forms of castes therefore and so hierarchies of caste order.

V. Structure each element

Now structure each of the above elements – the masses and their division of classes and landed classes – re-structured now to blocs and social forces of complex types of segments of class ownership and segments of class power and appendages of even structured wholes of people and state.

VI.A Brumiare to Represent this Complexity

Social complexity then is on a Brumiare staff something like a complex staff of affairs.

VII. Complexity and then Forms of Life

Housing and its forms of life, complex housing and forms of life.
Retail and its complexity and forms of intertwining complexity.

Engels edit this.
